

Learning A-Z is delighted to have received an “All Green” rating for Foundations A-Z from EdReports after a thorough and rigorous review of our program. We extend our deepest gratitude to the EdReports reviewers for recognizing the high-quality instructional value Foundations A-Z has to offer.

Designed to harness the power of the Science of Reading, Foundations A-Z helps teachers apply research-based best practices to deliver effective foundational skills instruction. Foundations A-Z is a means to empower and honor the strength of teachers, providing the tools and resources needed to witness the magical “aha” moment when their students decode a word for the first time.

At Learning A-Z, our mission is to inspire curiosity, ensure comprehension, and instill the joy of learning. We believe that teachers know their students best, and, when given the right resources to inform and deliver effective differentiated instruction, every student and teacher benefits. Offering an extensive collection of flexible curriculum resources aligned with research-based best practices, our products help educators maximize their core instruction, fill learning gaps, and personalize learning. Without limiting creativity, innovation, or individuality, we help educators provide the impactful instruction their students need to thrive.

We understand that Learning A-Z plays a critical role in serving districts and schools in the K-6 space, which is why we value keeping teachers at the heart of instruction and making sure every student benefits. Receiving “All Green” ratings from EdReports is yet another display of our commitment to this mission. We take pride in the fact that Foundations A-Z has been recognized as a high-quality, innovative educational resource, and we are confident that it will aid in producing improved student literacy for students around the world.
